POLITICIANS SEIZE STATE INSTITUTIONS

Mrs. Stannard Hurls Charges at Welfare Department

ADDRESSES MEETING HERE

Declares Against "Politics" in Delaware Home

Practical, bipartisan politics in the welfare department of the state, is the curse, not only of the state school for delinquent women and girls at Delaware, but of all the elementary institutions of the state which come under the state welfare department, according to Mrs. M. E. Stannard, who was removed, on charges, from the superintendency of the Delaware home not long ago.

Not only did Mrs. Stannard make revelations of how partisan politics is working against the best interests of these state institutions, but she also revealed the fact, which she says has been suppressed by the governor, that the welfare department is a political machine.

"My removal was a case of partisan politics because the administration wanted to put some one else in charge of the home to meet a political debt," said Mrs. Stannard. "Bipartisan politics did it. It is not known over the state that under the rules the civil service commission, which consists of only two men, can remove by a divided vote but can only reinstate by a unanimous vote."

For example, when they wanted to oust me and charged that I was a non-resident of Ohio, I was suspended and then the civil service commission after the hearing, by a pre-arrangement divided, one for me and one against me on the question of reinstatement, so I was thru. They had both agree and it was framed up so that they should not agree.

"This is the big danger in Ohio, because that rule nullifies all the civil service benefits in connection with the state institutions. The two men, one from each party, must agree to insure retention of an officer under fire, while all they have to do is to divide to cause removal. It is an outrageous condition."

ADDRESSES MEETING

Mrs. Stannard, who now represents the national committee on the care and training of delinquent women and girls, spoke at a dinner meeting of Lima women at the Argonne hotel Wednesday evening. She told them something of what partisan politics is doing to hamper the work of the Delaware school which is a particular pet of the state federation of women's clubs. She makes her headquarters in Detroit.

Mrs. Stannard is touring the state, she said, on a campaign of education among the club women to rouse them to the situation in Ohio that they may demand that all state welfare work be taken out of politics. She asserts that the new superintendent of the Delaware home is a woman from Xenia, who gets the position on politics.

OHIOAN ELECTED
COLUMBUS, O., was elected president of the American Congress of Ancestresses which closed its session here last night. Other officers named were Doctors John H. Evans, Buffalo, N. Y., and A. F. Guedel, Indianapolis, vice presidents, L. H. McKechnan, Avon Lake, O., executive secretary and M. J. McKesson, Toledo, O., chairman board of directors.

U. S. R. C. MEET

Brig. Gen. Henry J. Reilly, president of the Reserve Officers' Association of the United States, will preside over a national convention of that organization to be held in Detroit, Oct. 27 and 28. Call to the convention, at which 88,000 reservists will be represented, contained an attack against the "well-financed and continuous activity of pacifists in the United States."

ALL DEBTS WIPED OUT BY BOARD

Secretary Morton Smiles as Realty Sale Pays Notes

Every dollar of old debts, except the current bills, owed by the Board of Commerce has been paid, it was announced at the board offices Thursday. Something like $12,000 in notes and other evidences of debt, mostly due banks, was taken up and as a result Secretary James E. Morton says he feels 15 years younger than he did Wednesday.

Payment of the board's old debts, some of which have been pending since 1905, was made possible thru the sale of land which the board owned in the Buckeye and the Chalmers subdivisions of the city.

Wilbur Mummaugh, as chairman of the real estate committee of the board, closed a deal Wednesday whereby he sold the board's land in these two subdivisions to B. A. Weddock. The consideration for the deal was not made public, but it was sufficient to wipe out all but current bills and leave a balance in the bank to the credit of the board.

MEMBERS OUSTED

29 Suspended as Result of New York Church Row

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Twenty-nine members of Calvary Baptist church were suspended last night charged with conducting a "guerrilla warfare" on the pastor, the Rev. John Roach Straton, and with violating their vows to support the church.

Eleven other members voluntarily withdrew as a result of charges by Dr. Straton that while he was in Europe last summer a "coterie of hostile members" tried to oust him. Dr. Straton declared the church had become filled with social climbers who disliked his method of welcoming all who desired to join.

POSTMORTUM SHOWS CAUSE OF FATALITY

Poison Never Suspected, Family Statement Shows

CORONER TO FILE REPORT

Hemorrhage Caused by Spinal Meningitis, is Belief

Examination of the vital organs of J. Frank Homan, 42, Toledo and Van Wert business man who died early this month under circumstances said to have been at least partly suspicious, discloses that death was due to cerebral hemorrhage brought on by spinal meningitis.

The report of W. E. Beach, coroner, Van Wert, was to be filed late Thursday afternoon containing the above report based on report made to him and to Prosecutor Carl P. Dunifon, Van Wert, by Dr. B. W. Rhamy, Fort Wayne who made the examination.

Coincident with this report and in view of various stories circulated from time to time regarding Homan's death, Attorney R. A. Lindeman, Lima, Thursday issued the following statement in behalf of the family, this, he states, being the only statement issued or to be issued by the family in connection with the case:

STATEMENT BY FAMILY
"J. Frank Homan, 42, of 135 14th-st., Toledo, died very suddenly after a very brief illness. His death was reported by the attending physician as due to a blood clot formed following an illness of paratyphoid."

"The parents of Mr. Homan had not been informed as to the illness of their son. Therefore, the news of his death was like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky. Shortly after Homan's burial certain circumstances together with many conflicting stories as to the cause of their son's death, told by friends and relatives living in Toledo, caused the parents to become disquieted. They decided to have an autopsy performed to ease their minds as to the real cause of their son's death."

"On Oct. 9, Mr. Homan's body was disinterred and an autopsy was

MOTHER, DAUGHTER ENTER COLLEGE

MRS. LOUISE KELLER AND HER CO-STUDENT DAUGHTER LORETTA

Pair Battles Hardships for Chance to Realize Their Ideals

BERKELEY, Calif.—(Special)—Mother and daughter are vying for honors at the University of California here.

Sweet sixteen, in the guise of Miss Loretta Keller, seeks to outdo the maternal years of Mrs. Louise Keller in friendly competition.

Their arrival at the portals of higher education was fraught with countless hardships and discouragement.

But holding fast to "Mother" Keller's abiding faith in the philosophy that every cloud is lined with silver, the twain never veered from their course.

Today they look backward over the long, long trail which led them over mountains and Indian reservations to the college classroom.

At an early age, their father and husband died, when life was still young, out on the plains where he sought to "strike it rich" in his profession as mining engineer.

The blow left the mother quite destitute, with Loretta on her hands and a still younger daughter who has come along to Berkeley to enter high school.

Thru uncertain years, Mrs. Keller, with her face turned ever forward, worked as teacher in a host of towns and once came almost to the point of telling her little brood goodbye forever, when the grim white plague laid hold of her.

Doctors said she would die. But fight reignied her unconquerable soul. From a sick bed she rose and continued on.

And now victory and the dream goal of years are hers.

Her daughters are to be educated. Her health has returned to 100 per cent efficiency as testified by examining physicians at the university. Mrs. Keller is sublimely happy.

HARDING SERVICE POSTPONED

Memorial Will be Held at Marion Aug. 2, 1924

MARION, Ohio—(Associated Press)—The Harding Memorial service which was to have been concluded here November 2, the anniversary of the late president's fifty-ninth birthday, has been postponed until August 2, 1924, the first anniversary of his death.

It is planned to make the memorial service a national event. President Coolidge and his cabinet, it is understood, will attend. The service will be conducted at the Chautauqua pavilion, where Mr. Harding was officially notified July 22, 1920 of his nomination for the presidency by the Chicago national convention.

SERIOUS CLASH AT CAPITAL OF GERMANY NEAR

Strong Police Cordon Formed to Check Movement of Communists but Situation Is Regarded as Grave—French Troops Fired Upon by Radicals

Forty-Seven Persons Killed In Latest Battles In Various Cities—5,000 Unemployed Prepare to Storm the Reichstag to Demand Renewal of Doles

LONDON—(United Press)—Huge bands of Communists are marching on Berlin, says the Central News. Large bodies of them were converging from many districts, it is said. One body of them assembled in the suburb of Lichtenberg, where police formed a cordon to prevent their march on the capital, dispatches say. Serious trouble is expected.

PARIS—(Associated Press)—A crowd of Communists and Nationalists fired at 11:30 o'clock this morning on the prefecture of police in Wiesbaden which was occupied by French soldiers, says a dispatch to the Temps from Wiesbaden this afternoon. The assailants were vigorously driven off.

BERLIN—(United Press)—Five thousand unemployed began a march today from the suburbs of Berlin to the reichstag to demand renewal of the unemployment doles stopped on account of money shortage.

Police reserves were rushed to intercept them before they could reach the capital.

The men were in rebellious mood because the lack of paper marks compelled authorities to suspend payment of relief which is their sole means of livelihood.

AIX LA CHAPELLE—(Associated Press)—The police this morning attacked the Regierung Palace, the only remaining public building in the hands of the separatists. Five policemen and two separatists were killed during the fusillade.

Later thirty-five members of the police force called at the Belgian military headquarters and requested that they be disarmed.

PARIS—(United Press)—Forty persons were killed, including the chief of police, in fierce fighting at Creteil, between Germans loyal to the Berlin government and separatists, a dispatch from that city said today.

The separatists were in complete control of Creteil today, the dispatch said.

BERLIN—(United Press)—The situation in Hamburg still is tense, messages said today.

"Strong detachments of soldiers and marines are stationed in the suburbs with orders to use ruthless measures in quelling any communist outbreaks."

BERLIN—(United Press)—The former German crown prince has urgently requested that he be allowed to return to Germany. It was learned today.

After vigorous correspondence between the prince and Chancellor Stresemann, the chancellor laid the matter before one of the recent sittings of the cabinet for a decision.

Socialists are considerably embarrassed by the appeal and no decision has been reached yet.

Some members of the cabinet admit, however, they cannot advance any especially good reason why the prince should not return.

The Dutch government has agreed to the prince's request to leave Holland, it was understood, on condition he will not ask to return to his refuge in Wieringen.

FRESH RIOTING
Fresh rioting broke out in Hamburg when communists held their posts in the suburb of Schiffbeck in face of a combined attack on them by the police and naval landing parties.

"THE FOOL" First Installment of New Novel From The Great Play--Read It

The Christmas Tree
HERE and there above the roofs and gables, eaves and steeples that are the skyscraper of New York, there towers on occasional church spire, a great, sensitive, kindly finger pointing to Heaven.

The Church of the Nativity holds aloft just such a finger—but it rises from a smug, sleek, soft hand. An habitue of New York's most fashionable club would feel quite at home in the Church of the Nativity. There is the same rich simplicity in both, the same warm comfort, and, above all, the same exclusiveness. But a threadbare man would be as self-conscious in one institution as in the other.

A fleeting winter sun, homeward bound on Christmas eve, peered through stained glass windows upon a scene of disorder not in keeping with the primness it usually found in the rich shadows of these stately walls.

Crumpled paper, boxes and wood shavings were scattered everywhere. Bits of abandoned string scrawled strange figures on the floor.

Rising above this confusion towered a giant fir tree, decked with the lights and colors of an Aurora Borealis. Tinsel and trinkets weighed its boughs. A young girl poised on a step ladder, draped a strand of silver on already overloaded banches, then sat down awkwardly on one of the steps.

A woman, dressed too youthfully for her 40 years, and too tightly for her 180 pounds, turned slowly, surveying a dazzling ball held level with her eyes. As she faced the ladder she glimpsed other ornaments. "Dilly!" she reproved. "Dilly, for pity's sake pull down your skirt." She turned to a third feminine figure bending over a box. "I don't know what skirts are coming to!"

"They're not coming to the ground, mother, you can be sure of that," Dilly rejoined flippantly.

Dilly otherwise Daffodil Gilliam, was pretty even before she learned that nature had adjuncts sold in small round boxes. Twenty years old, she was 30 years witty, 40 years wise, 50 years worldly and 60 years cynical.

"I can't understand why our young women want to go around looking like chorus girls," Mrs. Gilliam complained irritably.

"Perhaps they've noticed the kind of men that marry chorus girls," Lella Thornbury remarked, looking up from a box of toys. At 20 Lella had left one marriage behind, carrying away court-awarded spoils of war. There was something feverish and restless in her eyes, something deliberately attractive in her manner.

"I've two engagements before dinner," said Mrs. Thornbury, finally, "and I've got to go home and undress for the opera."

"I gave up the dance for this," boasted Dilly.

"But you all waste your time to dreadfully," objected Mrs. Gilliam.

"I'm busy, too, but my life is given to the service of others."

"What could be sweeter!" her daughter mocked.

"Dilly! Nobody knows better than you that I've never had a selfish thought," Mr. Gilliam—"Of the Gilliam Groceries, Inc."

interrupted the girl.

"Mr. Gilliam says I'm far too good! Only yesterday I gave 500 pounds of coffee and sugar to the Salvation Army."

"And today," interrupted the incorrigible Dilly, "father jumped the price of sugar to 32 cents!"

Mrs. Gilliam saw the futility of further argument.

"One gets precious little reward, I can tell you," she said with rising emotion. "I send helpful things from the Bible to all Mr. Gilliam's employees! Now they're on strike, and the man that got 'be content with your wages' is leading the strikers."

She rummaged in the toy box to conceal her agitation.

"Where's the Star of Bethlehem?" she asked absently.

"It doesn't work, mother," explained Dilly.

"Are those your husband's men on the front steps?" Mrs. Thornbury asked after a moment's pause.

"Oh, no," said Mrs. Gilliam. "Those are people from the sweet

TWO ACCUSED LIQUOR RUNNERS CAPTURED

CLEVELAND — Two alleged liquor runners and a cargo of eight cases of bonded whisky in their touring car were captured early today at Painesville, by police.

The alleged runners were on the last lap of their run to Cleveland, and a confederate, following them a few minutes later, escaped thru a veritable hail of police bullets.

Windows in the confederate's coupe were shattered by the police bullets and it is believed at least one of the shot found its mark in the liquor runner's body. Following a shot that splintered the rear window, the bootlegger was seen to slump over his wheel and then straighten up again and drive faster.

PERPETUAL FINANCIAL COMMITTEE IS PLANNED BY BLUFFTON COLLEGE

Organization of a perpetual committee to look after the financial needs of Bluffton college has been proposed to the officials backing the present financial campaign.

With only $33,000 subscribed, less than half the amount needed from Allen-co, officials fear it will be necessary to develop some plan for the careful and methodical canvassing of the communities.

Under the plan proposed a committee of workers would go over the list of prospects and in a slow systematic way give them an opportunity to make a pledge to the institution.

Definite decision as to the future campaign methods will be made later in the week, it was announced Thursday.

JURY DISCHARGED IN BANEY CASE

Fails to Convict or Acquit in Disorderly House Trial

Judge Neil R. Poling Wednesday discharged the jury in the case of the city versus Eva Baney, charged with operating a house of ill fame.

At 4:45 p. m. after three deadlocked ballots Judge Poling was told the jury composed entirely of men, was unable to reach a verdict. The case was placed in the jury's hands at 3 p. m.

The city based its charge on a $1 bill taken by Detective Hargrove from the Baney home during the presence of John Brown, of Columbus Grove, a "stool pigeon" who admitted police had taken the serial numbers of his three one dollar bills before he entered the house.

The defendant took the stand late Wednesday afternoon and told of the alleged frameup by police on Oct. 13 when she was away from her house, which was left in charge of Myrtle West, who accused police of "planting" the "marked money."

Vote was seven for conviction and five for acquittal. Five ballots were taken.

New jury will be empaneled and the second trial opened as soon as possible, probably Monday, according to Judge Poling who has a jury to select for Wednesday the date set for the trial of E. F. Terry, sheriff of Van Wert-co, and he is anxious to get the Baney case off the docket.

13 REACTORS REPORTED IN 1200 HEAD OF CATTLE REPORTED IN ALLEN-CO

Out of 1200 head of dairy cattle tested in Allen-co for bovine tuberculosis only 13 reactors were reported, according to report compiled by the agricultural extension service of Ohio State university.

Dr. E. S. Augsburger, who has been conducting tests in the county, completed his tests in Bath-tp a week ago and is now testing herds in Spencer-tp.

Most of the counties visited so far have made a better showing than inspectors hoped for. Partial reports for September show that Belmont-co's fourth township to be tested was 99 per cent free of the disease. Of more than 4,000 head of cattle tested, only nine reacted, or were adjudged tubercular.

Wayne-co's September report was 990 tested and 27 reactors; Margaretta-tp, Erie-co, revealed 37 reactors in 1,560 tested. Fulton-co, where testing began September 17, gave 18 reactors from 1200 head tested.

The handicapped by lack of state appropriations and confronted with enough work for several times the force of men available, state and federal officials in charge of bovine tuberculosis eradication are steadily cleaning up townships in the 12 counties under the area plan.

CIVIL WAR VETS IN REUNION

Few Members of Company Meet at Memorial Hall

Ten aged members of the 151st regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, gathered together in Memorial hall Thursday morning on the occasion of the 32nd annual reunion.

While there are possibly 16 members of the original 150 whose names appeared on the roster, only 10 of the men who fought in the Civil War were able to attend.

One of that number, John McCormack, despite the fact that he had to be carried to the reunion, expressed the hope he would be able to attend every reunion until his death. As McCormack was resting in the veterans' room he said: "I don't think I would be much good entertaining for the front today." His spirit, however, is as keen as it was in those days of 1861 to 1864.

All of the veterans now living are between the ages of 80 and 90. J. L. P. Leatherman of Harrod claims the distinction of being the oldest member. On December 16 he will celebrate his 90th birthday.

"I feel pretty good yet, but I was injured during a fire at my house in Harrod last August," Leatherman attested.

Each and every veteran present said they would hold their reunion for 32 years more, although two of them confessed that "there will be mighty few of us left 10 years from now."

Pansy, V. Jansen, and her sister, Lillian Johnston, of Harrod, granddaughters of Leatherman, are honorary members of the company, having been bestowed with the honor when they were small girls. Pansy Jansen has acted as secretary for many years.

One hundred and fifty-first saw most of its service around Washington City, Md., and were present at the siege of Ft. Stevens, Ft. Beard, and camped for several months on the site which is now Arlington cemetery. There were 1,000 in the regiment, and considerably less than 100 are known to be living.

Luncheon was served the veterans at noon by the woman's relief corps. In the afternoon a program of music and talks was given. Welcome address was made by Reed Winegardner, and A. J. Osman responded. Eleanor Sherrick gave a piano and military dance selection. Camphire by the veterans was also held. Program closed with a song by the veterans.

Glen I. Wallace, former clerk of the county commissioners, was sworn in and assumed his new duties as county recorder at noon Thursday.

No changes in the office personnel were announced by the new recorder in assuming office.

COURT JAILS MAN FOR CONTEMPT

Sentence Follows Assent
Judge Poling is "Fixed"

G. W. Scott, 40, colored, of 633 N. Jackson-st., was sentenced Thursday by Judge Neil R. Poling, of criminal court, to 10 days in the city jail for contempt of court.

He was also bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bail on a statutory charge preferred by G. E. Rader, N. Jackson-st.

Scott accused Judge Poling of being "fixed" and said that he had no chance for a fair and impartial trial in criminal court as the charge against him was "framed" to injure his reputation among followers of his race.

Scott is night porter at a local hotel. He is taking a correspondence course in law.

Serious charge against the defendant was entered by George E. Rader, his neighbor, who accuses Scott of attacking his eight year old daughter on or about Oct. 13.

The girl complained Wednesday night to her father. Thursday morning a physician was called and his examination in the presence of Police Inspector Strick and Sergeant Watkins.

Jail sentence for contempt will not be suspended, according to Judge Poling. Scott is married and has a family.

SERVICES FOR VETERAN

TO SPEAK IN LIMA FRIDAY NIGHT

Peter W. Collins to Address Public
Audience at Memorial Hall,
Friday Night, October 26th

The battle front of the national campaign against radicalism will be moved to Memorial Hall on Friday Night, when Peter W. Collins, well-known industrial expert, will deliver his lecture, "What America Means to Us," under the auspices of Lima Council Knights of Columbus.

The lecture in Lima will, Grand Knight B. A. Weadock declares, be absolutely free to the public.

Mr. Collins' subject will deal with the causes and cures of present industrial unrest and stress, particularly the illusory doctrines of Socialism, Bolshevism, I. W. Wism and other angles of Red Radicalism. During the war he represented the Federal Government as industrial expert in many of the largest munitions plants, factories and shipyards in the country, and following the signing of the armistice he was placed in charge of the K. of C. reconstruction and employment system which replaced more than 300,000 former service men in jobs.

Besides holding the record of having answered more questions than any other publicist in America, Collins is also the most widely traveled American lecturer, having covered 350,000 miles in his work as a K. of C. crusader and having addressed some 5,000,000 persons during the past eleven years.

Lima Council has endeavored to book this speaker for the past two years, Friday night being the only open date on which a local engagement could be arranged for.

2 CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

Bankrupt Brokers of Cincinnati
Indicted by Grand Jury

CINCINNATI—(Associated Press)—George H. Beazell, Jr., and William H. Chatfield of the bankrupt brokerage firm of Beazell and Chatfield, of this city, were indicted today by the Hamilton-co grand jury. The concern failed last April for more than $1,000,000.

The firm of Beazell and Chatfield first went into the hands of a receiver in the common pleas court and a few days later was thrown into bankruptcy in the United States district court.

The failure is reported to have been due to selling short of the New York market. Former Federal Judge John W. Peck, referee in bankruptcy in the case estimated a few weeks ago that if all the creditors accepted the same settlement, they would receive about 25 cents on the dollar.

Beazell and Chatfield were indicted jointly on twelve counts. Beazell was indicted separately on two counts charging him with forgery. Eight of the joint indictments charge the two with embezzlement. Two name both on charges of conversion of personal property and the other two charge embezzlement and false pretenses.

The indicted men were ordered by Judge Thomas H. Darby in criminal court to appear later in the day to give bond.

Harold Haley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart H. Haley, formerly of 737 S. Metcalf-st. but now living in Tulsa, Okla., is recovering from a serious attack of diphtheria. For several days it was feared he would die.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known
Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

GIRL'S MARRIAGE UNDER FIRE

Father Says Bride of 13 Was Made Victim of Fraud

Another episode in the marital adventures of little Rose Kreshmer, 12, child bride of Urs Fuller, 20, of 1205 S. Main-st., was unfolded in common pleas court Thursday when an application was filed asking that the marriage be set aside on ground of fraud.

The action is brought by Steve Kreshmer, father of the girl, in her name.

The petition recites that Rose was induced to marry the defendant thru fraud. Fuller who had persuaded the girl to elope with him to Kentucky instructed her to tell officials at Augustine, Ky., that she was 21 years old, it is alleged.

Laws of Kentucky prohibit marriage of women under age of 14 without consent of parents. No consent was given to the nuptials, the petition declares, and the ceremony was not ratified by the pair as husband and wife.

The court is requested to nullify the ceremony.

After she returned here, juvenile officers attempt to take Rose home, but met with resistance.

Police were called to aid and officers rescued the child-bride from Fuller's home, 1205 S. Main-st after a desperate battle.

Fuller subsequently attempted to recover his mate by habeas corpus proceedings, but lost out. Courts denied the application when Rose testified she was induced to marry under promise that they were not to live together until she was of age.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF WOMAN INVESTIGATED

DAYTON — Coroner E. E. Kimmel today was investigating the mysterious death of Mrs. Orin Vandermant, 30, who died at a local hospital last night after lingering in the institution for a week suffering with what physicians believed to be a strange case of poisoning.

Following her death, Coroner Kimmel, assisted by another doctor held an autopsy. He intimated that foul play is suspected and stated that his investigation is not closed. He refused to give the history of the case. The woman leaves her husband and one child, a daughter, 11 years old.

CANNOT SUE BOTH ROADS AT ONCE

Plaintiff Loses Decision in Case of Joint Action

That a suit cannot be brought simultaneously against an originating carrier and the receiving carrier was decided by the court of appeals Thursday in the case of J. A. Parks, Westminster, against the Pennsylvania and Erie railroads.

Parks brought action for damage against the two common carriers for $354.02 for goods damaged in shipment. A common pleas court jury brought in a verdict for $331.12.

In deciding an appeal in the action the appeals court jurists found error in the fact that the lower court overruled a demurrer filed by counsel for the railroad companies.

Judgment was reversed, and the verdict of the jury set aside, with direction that the demurrer be sustained. Further proceedings are ordered under the decision.

The Pennsylvania was the originating carrier, and the Erie the receiving carrier.

Professional men, insurance agents and real estate men to the number of approximately 40 participated Wednesday afternoon in the second of the Board of Commerce tours to Lima industries.

The visitors of Wednesday covered the identical territory, which the merchants covered Tuesday, visiting the Lima Locomotive works, Garford Truck plant, Ohio Steel foundry and the Superior Motor Coach Body Co. plant.

Next week sees the second of the group tours, the retail merchants going on Tuesday and the others on Wednesday. Institutions which will be visited next week include: Lima Sheet Metal Products Co., Steiner Brothers, Detsel Wemmer, Bernhard Boiler Co., Vapo Stove works, Lima Woolen Mills and Solar Refining Co. How To Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

Your nerve power depends on plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated iron—helps make. Nuxated iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalizes worn-out, exhausted nerves and give you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people are already using it. Beware of substitutes. Always insist upon having genuine organic iron—Nuxated iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists in tablets only—never in liquid form.

Glove Making in the Home

IN the early days, when all gloves were made in family circles, they were cut from the skins with common shears and stitched together by hand. The patterns were made of paste-board or shingles and were laid upon the leather and traced with sharp, pointed pieces of lead. The sewing was done by the women, who would thread the square pointed needle with heavy linen thread doubled, tie the end, wax it, place a strip of Buckskin between the edges for a welt, and then stitch the seam.

This work, however, was laborious, and when, in 1852, it became known that machines were being made that would actually sew a seam, manufacturers immediately became interested.

It is a far cry from that day to this—when one may secure almost any kind of a glove one's heart may desire—from the finest of delicate Kid gloves at $2.50 to $5.95. Handsome, stylish, warm ones in gauntlet styles—lots of bright colors—both wool and camel hair.

PROPOSAL MEETS WITH FAVOR

SEVERAL times during the last few months The Lima News has called to the attention of citizens of Lima the benefit that would accrue to this municipality by having a resident of the city on board of county commissioners. This has been done thru editorial mention and probably has brought forth more favorable discussion than anything proposed in recent months.

As time passes and the city and county, both working under the same general laws but separated in that there is no connection on boards, attempt to thresh out matters of finances it becomes apparent to what extent a broad minded resident of the city could be of service as liaison officer between the two.

Lima pays the bulk of taxes in the county but has no representation on the board that handles the money. This results to some extent of taxation without representation. In the past the city has been content to allow the county to elect commissioners, but there is a strong sentiment now in favor of a city man on the board. In addition to the board of commissioners, which is elected by the people, the budget commission is purely a county organization. This is organized in accordance with the state law over which residents of this city have no control.

While the county commissioners are elected on partisan tickets, the city would benefit if it were possible for the two parties to settle on a candidate from Lima in 1924 who would work for the interest of the city more than a board composed entirely of rural members could be expected to do. Lima should have a conscientious member on this important board who would take an interest in those who pay in their money to run the county and city and who would not be playing politics to the exclusion of all other considerations.

WOMEN IN 1953

WOMEN 30 years from now will not be doing any housework, predicts Professor Ernest Groves. This has been predicted before—that, at least in cities, everybody eventually will live in big apartment houses run like hotels, with the housework done by maids, cooks, porters and laundresses employed by the hotel-homes.

This would be an application, to housework, of the co-operative principles we already use in government.

However, our jazz era may have a reaction in the form of a general desire to get back to nature and the simple life. Airplanes could make this possible, people living far out in the country, father flying several hundred miles to work. In which case, there'd be more housework for ma than there is now—and Professor Groves would be all wrong in his prediction.

Groves expresses this interesting size-up of the woman of today: "In spite of all this so-called freedom, women are still drudges and slaves to their homes. They are so busy with house-keeping that they have no time to instruct their children properly, and no time to be companions as well as housekeepers to their husbands. When 40 comes, they feel that life has gone from them."

True in many cases, undoubtedly. But when a wife really loves her husband, and has children, housework is not drudgery and slavery in the long run, the mighty monotonous at times.

Mother gets infinite joy toiling to make her family happy. That's one reason no sacrifice is too great for her. Science, of course, is unable to comprehend this. Science is baffled by anything it can't measure in kilowatt hours.

SILK NO LONGER LUXURY

SILK is no longer an emblem of luxury. Which, by the way, is chief reason the silk hat is not worn by modern sports to display their ability to pay.

Americans this year will consume about 70 million pounds of silk. Over half of it will be artificial silk, made from wood fiber, seaweed, etc. Getting to be too big a job for the silkworm. Chemists had to come to its aid with substitutes. Few can tell artificial silk from the real thing, just as only an expert can distinguish a genuine ivory billiard ball from one made of buttermilk.

GUESSING ON THE WEATHER

THE Klondike region, far north, had the longest summer season in its history. Autumn has been phenomenally mild up there, the Yukon River free of ice late in October.

Old settlers are predicting a mild winter in the north, which would mean an "open winter" in our country. One guess is as good as another, for 1923 has been the strangest year for weather in our generation. You'll recall, some scientists predicted this would be a "year without a summer." They got fooled.

SENSITIZATION AND IMMUNITY

A man who keeps bees and sells the honey asks three or four times as much for his honey as a man who keeps a dog and sells the dog. He says he seems to be badly poisoned by a sting; he has heard that some persons do not mind being stung at all. That is true.

Some persons are naturally more or less immune from the poison injected by the honey bee; some persons can acquire practically complete immunity and some persons had better keep chickens. In order to go about developing a serviceable immunity to be poison one arranges for a series of treatments consisting of stings at regular intervals of a week or two by from 30 to 40 vigorous healthy young bees who have nothing more important to do. In some cases only a dozen or 15 stings or seances or dances are required to bring about sufficient immunity, but an average of 30 should be taken as a rule. Numerous bee keepers have tried this treatment and have declared themselves delighted with the results. I mean after a due time, not in the earlier stage of the treatment. Unlike most of the treatments I recommend, this one cannot be warranted pleasant to take, in which respect it resembles castor oil; on the other hand I don't recommend castor oil except as hair oil. Before taking the first few injections it would be well to apply a thick padding of cotton batting to the second commandment.

I have dwelt thus at length on the immunization treatment against bee stings not merely for the joy of it, but to emphasize a certain homoeopathic principle which applies in many kinds of successful treatment.

CLEVER
Sometimes I think it were better if never

We'd heard of or uttered the "little word" "clever."
The clever means skill of a certain degree,
There are so many things it is better to be.

Now clever's a word that is sweet to the ear;
It flatters our pride and misleads us, I fear.

It tells the young fellow who's tempted to shirk
That if he is clever he won't have to work.

It tells the young fellow unwilling to wait,
That if he is clever he needn't go straight;

Full many a wrong deed it tempts him to do
By saying if clever he needn't be true.

But better it were to have patience to wait
And little by little to grow to be great.

And loyalty harvests more friendship and joy
Than just being clever can gather, my boy.

Be honest, be cheerful, be kindly, be brave,
Be willing to work and be willing to save;

It is fine to be clever, but take this from me,
There are numberless things it is better to be.

A Thought

Every way of a man is right in his own eyes; but the Lord pondereth the hearts. Prov. 21:2.

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs

Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. Easily prepared, and gives about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membrane that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

THIS LITTLE WORLD

LONDON

By MILTON BRONNER
LONDON — (Special) — British joke at our expense is the manner in which our cities have been named. They don't know whether to be more amused at Indian names like Oshkosh and Tuscaloosa or at the imported names like Ulica, Carthage and Syracuse.

But it's the old story of people in glass houses throwing stones. For instance, just a hurried glance thru a railway guide shows such gems as Aberystwyth, Abertystwyth, Aberystwyth, Ballachulish, Billeteray, Binegar, Blaenau-ffestiog, Clackbriggs, Dauby, Wike and Ystalyfera.

Then there are funny-sounding ones like East Ham, Bootle, Tooting, Hallowthistle, Ince, Knockando and Moses Gate.

The jests of kings and princes are usually pretty poor stuff. The latest reported from ex-Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria belongs in that class.

He ... in exile at Coburg, Germany. Not long ago an American traveler who was presented to him sought to console him by saying:

"Well, anyway, your majesty, you had a great reign."

"You think so?" said Ferdie. "Well, here is what history will say of me:

"He reigned from Stambuloff to Stambulsky without ever having seen Stambuloff!"

And he laughed a bitter laugh at the American's confusion. It may be added that Stambuloff is the Bulgarian premier who brought about Ferdinand's call to the throne and Stambulsky is the premier who drove him out. Both statesmen were assassinated. Stambuloff is, of course, the Turkish section of the great city of Constantinople.

Opponents of America's prohibition laws claim the Latin countries are proof that wines never hurt anybody. They tell us to observe how wisely the French and Italians make use of alcoholic beverages and how few drunken persons one ever sees in a French or Italian town.

I have just clipped out of a French paper—not a prohibition paper either—some statistics about France. According to this paper's report, out of 150,000 people who died of tuberculosis in France every year 135,000 are alcoholic. Thirty per cent of the insane are drinkers, 53 per cent of the assassins, 57 per cent of the incendiaries, 70 per cent of the professional mendicants and the parents of 80 per cent of the young persons arrested for crime are alcoholic.

That's about as grim a thing as I have ever read in a French journal.

In England a law complete shops to close up one afternoon.

The idea is to give the people a half holiday, only people excepted are drug and they may sell only one.

Which is the point of this year's Customer: "Tub of blank's dental cream, please."

Druggist: "Sorry, I've loved to sell toilet requisites."

Customer: "Can you sell a tin for the teeth?"

Druggist: "Certainly."

Customer: "Blank-blank's cream, please. Thanks. Good morn."

New German Oil Formula Rubs Out Rheumatic Pain

Remarkable Discovery From Relief to Rheumatic Sufferers

German chemists, who have given the world the boon of aspirin for relief of headache pain, and Novocain for painless dentistry, have now discovered a new oil of German origin that promises to make the pain a thing of the past for the sufferer who has suffered from rheumatic pains.

A new combination of certain has been discovered, which about a clear amber liquid that affords immediate relief from pain in many cases. It is so penetrating that it disappears within a few seconds, that it must be entirely absorbed by the body tissue. Even in the most advanced and stubborn cases the use of this remarkable oil has shown a marked improvement at once in cases. Tired muscles regain their normal suppleness, the joints become supple, and the aching twinges cease.

Rheumatism, in many cases, is a local infection, such as a tooth pocket, in a tooth, which gives poisons. These poisons are carried to the blood by the muscles and the blood is designed to neutralize these pain-causing poisons. So astonishing have been the results of this oil that all the American distributors have authorized local druggists to dispense this remarkable oil for the relief of rheumatic pains. It is a new oil, signed by themselves to return the purchase price of the first bottle of this oil if it does not give you relief from the very first bottle. Druggist will return your money if you call on him and ask for it at most good druggists, such as Krantz Co., Enterprises, Drug Centers, Drug Stores, Argosy Store and Baldwin.

SEATTLE FIRST IN BABIES' HEALTH

Infant Mortality Rate is 49, Best in U. S. for 1922

WESTERN CITIES IN LEAD

States of Pacific Coast Also Have Lowest Records

(BY E. C. FORBES)

SEATTLE — (Special) — Which is the most vital, the most important industry of all? Agriculture? Steel? Building? Motor building? Textile manufacturing?

No.

The most important industry of all is the raising of children or healthy human beings. Do you not agree?

The paper the newsboy was shouting, when I awoke, was the Great Falls Tribune. Here is the extract from its leading editorial.

"The American Child Health Association of which Herbert Hoover is president, now prepares an annual report to stimulate interest in measures that will aid in the reduction of child mortality. It finds out that of the 25 largest cities in the United States, Seattle, Wash., was the healthiest for infants in 1922. Seattle's infant mortality rate was 49, which means that number of infants under one year of age, died out of every thousand born. The next four cities in order were Minneapolis, 53; Portland, 56; San Francisco, 57; and St. Louis, 59.

The rate for New York City including all five boroughs was 75 and for Chicago, second largest city, 85. Western states also made the best average rates of all cities of more than 10,000 population. Oregon, with four cities, had the best average rate with 58.6; nine cities in the state of Washington second with 58.3; eleven cities in Minnesota, third, with 60.3; twenty-five cities in California, fourth, with 64.6 and five cities in Nebraska, fifth, with 65.3."

The two most common topics of conversation whenever two persons meet are health and the weather. Let me tell you a little more about the subject of this editorial.

During the ten-year period 1911 to 1920, Seattle had the lowest death rate of any city in United States for six years, was second lowest for three years and third lowest one year.

What about deaths of infants? Seattle's infant mortality rate in 1922, the lowest of any city of 100,000 or over. Read these comparisons for a five-year average:

Seattle, 57; Indianapolis, 87; Cincinnati, 83; Cleveland, 93; Columbus, 92; Toledo, 89; Milwaukee, 97; New York City, 84; Chicago, (x) 89. x—Chicago not compiled until 1921.

How's this record covering deaths from all causes per 1,000 population for the ten-year period 1911-1920: Seattle, 9.78; Indianapolis, 15.05; Cincinnati, 16.99; Cleveland, 15.86; Columbus, 15.03; Toledo, 15.05; Milwaukee, 12.43; Kansas City, Mo., 15.77; Omaha, 13.63; St. Louis, 15.09; Chicago, 14.4; New York City, 14.8.

How do different cities compare in the matter of climate? Look at these extremes of temperature over many years:

Seattle, 23 years, 96 high, 3 above low; Indianapolis, 45 years, 106 high, 25 below low; Cincinnati, 37 years, 105 high, 17 below low; Cleveland, 28 years, 99 high, 17 below low; Columbus, 31 years, 104 high, 20 below low; Toledo 33 years, 99 high, 16 below low; Eau Claire, 19 years, 103 high, 40 below low; St. Louis, 41 years, 107 high, 22 below low; Kansas City, 28 years, 104 high, 22 below low; New York City, 50 years, 102 high, 13 below low.

A Seattle reporter quoted me as saying I was going to pack up and move my wife and four young boys to Seattle. I didn't say it.

But do you not agree that these wonderful records have a strong appeal for any one interested in the most vital of all industries, the raising of healthy human beings?

STANDARDIZATION URGED AS INDUSTRIAL SAVING

CLEVELAND — Standardization is the only way that industry can keep pace with increasing labor costs, in the opinion of Colonel E. C. Peck, work manager of a local drill company.

In an address last night before representatives of six engineering organizations, Colonel Peck told of several examples of standardization and consequent industrial saving, including the reduction in the number of styles of milk bottles from 49 to one and a considerable reduction in the number of styles of furniture casters. The original number of which he said was 2,500.

Life would be much happier if men's pockets, women's hats and bank checks could be standardized, Colonel Peck asserted.

CHARGES DISMISSED

CLEVELAND — Charges against Fred Getz and E. H. Clark, accused of administering "dope" to a race horse at the Brooklyn track near here July 13, were dismissed by a judge of the peace on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

Craft Centuries Old Discovered At Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES — (Associated Press) — The framework and planking of a craft which has withstood the stress of years and which is believed to have been used centuries ago by Chinese or Spanish explorers or pirates, have been uncovered many feet beneath the earth's surface at Los Angeles harbor in excavations for an old storage tank.

The boat, less than forty feet in length, with high sides, is built of a heavy, thick wood. Some of the timbers are half rounded, as is the case in many old Oriental vessels. Metal is used to fasten pieces of the craft together but rusted away. The construction of the ship indicated that it was not built by Indians.

More than a century ago, channels of the harbor are said to have extended much farther inland than today, and mariners say they believe the vessel entered, became fast in a mid bank and was abandoned by the crew.

What is believed to be the task of a mastodon was uncovered near the timbers.

That a Chinese master brought the craft across the Pacific ocean; that it crossed the Bering Sea and sailed down the coast to California, and that it might have been brought around the horn by Spanish explorers or pirates are theories advanced to account for its presence here.

GERMAN REPORTERS CRY OVER WHITE BREAD WASTE

DANZIG — (Special) — A group of German newspapermen recently visited the United States cruiser Pittsburg in this harbor, and joined in saying the most astonishing thing they saw was the tossing overboard of a quantity of white bread left from the noonday meal of the crew.

"It was the first white bread most of us had seen in years," one reporter declared.

None of the visitors wrote much about the cruiser's armament. It was the kitchens, the food and ways of serving meals that held their attention.

C. J. ESTEP DEAD

REACH ACCORD ON LIABILITY

Taxi Owners and City Manager Reach Agreement

Following conference between City Manager Bingham, heads of the various taxicab companies and liability insurance agents an understanding has been reached relative to the interpretation of the new city ordinance requiring the owners of taxicabs to take out $10,000 liability insurance to protect the traveling public against injury.

Some of the insurance agents, when the ordinance was passed, were of the opinion that the taxicab owners were required to take out $10,000 liability insurance on each car. The premium on such a policy, insurance men say, runs around $220 per year. Taxicab owners said that if they had to pay $220 per year insurance premium on each and every car they operated besides paying the city license and also giving the $500 bond for their taxi drivers they would have to close up shop and leave the city without taxi service of any kind.

City Manager Bingham, however, took the position that the $10,000 liability insurance ordered taken out by the taxi owners applies to his establishment whether it be one or a hundred. He explained that the liability insurance is to protect the public so that in case a car injures some person, or if the car causes any other injury through negligence of the driver, the owner will be liable. He gave as an example if B was crossing the street and was hit by the X. Y. Z. taxi, the company would be liable up to the amount of the insurance if that much damage could be proved before a jury.

Taxicab owners are satisfied with that interpretation of the ordinance it is stated. At the offices of both the Yellow and the Checker companies the managers said the insurance liability of $10,000 with its premium of $220 means only responsible companies can operate taxicabs in this city and so they are satisfied.

CHANGE OF LIFE LOSES TERRORS

For Women Who Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Pa. — "I took your medicine through the Change of Life and it did wonders for me. I was down in bed when I started to take it and weighed 95 pounds. I had hot flashes and was so nervous and weak that everything would get black and I could not see. I would sit and cry and did not know what I was crying for. Since I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel younger than I did ten years ago, and my friends all tell me I look younger, and I owe it all to the Vegetable Compound. I do all my housework for a family of seven now. I will be glad to answer any woman who writes me in regard to my case." — Mrs. JOHN MYERS, 55 Union St., Greenville, Pa.

Many letters similar to this have been published testifying to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They are sincere expressions from women who describe as best they can their feelings before and after taking this well-known medicine.

Many times they state in their letters their willingness to answer women who write them. It is an offer dictated by gratitude and a desire to help others.

Weak, Nervous, Down to 88 Pounds When She Found the Plant Juice

NOW A DIFFERENT WOMAN

"Six years ago I had a general breakdown. I never got over it. Recently, my weight had gone down from 117 to 88 pounds. I was extremely nervous, weak, run down—lips were the color of white chalk. But I will say that your Plant Juice put new life and strength in my body. In fact, I feel like a different woman and I am sure grateful to Plant Juice."

MRS. ANNA BYRNE

These were the words of Mrs. Anna Byrne, of 31 South Park Drive, West Orange, N. J., while talking with The Plant Man a few days ago.

"I was so extremely nervous that the least unusual thing would actually make me cry out and I would jerk and twitch at night and it was impossible for me to sleep. And my stomach was badly disordered so that it was out of the question for me to eat solids and I had to live on a liquid diet and even liquid foods caused awful gas and bloating. My liver and kidneys were disordered and I had bilious spells, dizziness and pains across my back and had rheumatism so bad that the joints of my fingers were drawn into hard knots and swollen to twice their natural size.

"I tried many medicines but it seemed like nothing would help me and then I found your Plant Juice and it has made a different woman out of me. I have a good appetite now and can even eat solids. My liver and kidneys work properly; nerves are improved so that I do not jump at the least thing and do not jerk as I did before. I am gaining weight right along and now weigh 96 pounds. And these rheumatic pains are greatly relieved and the swelling of my fingers is reduced. My husband, father-in-law and all my friends are talking about the change in me."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at Hunter's drug stores, 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne streets, and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office. Adv.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

I AM a young man, 23, who 2 years ago met a girl a year and a half my junior. We went together, but the time came when she asserted the right, as any "unengaged" girl would, to keep company with other men. We are still good friends but I feel that some day I must win this girl—in my mind she is the type of perfect woman—clean, honest, the right sort she used to. There is no one whom she is especially interested in so far as I can see—do you think my chances are as good as the rest?—B.

I DON'T see why you haven't as good a chance as anyone.

She probably wouldn't feel free to let you know it even if she did care for you, since you are "unengaged." Why not ask her to marry you?

And then, if she doesn't care to become engaged, don't rush her and make her tired of you.

Be a good pal for a while. Find out her interests and play up to them. Take her to some of the places she likes to go.

Dear Miss Smart:

I am going to take part in a show that we are going to put on at a Halloween party, and to wear a Scotch costume, will you please let me know the correct way to make one?

BLACKIE.

I am not able to give accurate enough directions to you for the making of a Scotch costume. However, just at this time, the magazines and stores feature fancy costumes in their pattern departments. I am sure you will be able to get a pattern for a Scotch costume at any department store that has such a department.

Dear Miss Susie:

You have helped so many others thru your column, I wonder if you will help me a little. I do all the housework at my home and after I finish the dishwashing and the weekly laundry work, especially my hands get so rough and ugly. I have always wanted smooth and soft hands. Can you tell me of something I might use?

HOUSEWIFE.

Keep a bottle of hand lotion in the kitchen and after washing dishes or any other work likely to injure the hands, wash them carefully in order to remove any traces of laundry soap or washing powder. After drying the hands, apply the hand lotion.

A good lotion is made of glycerine, rose water and lemon juice. You can get the glycerine and rose water mixed in the correct proportions at any drug store and then you may add the strained lemon juice at home.

ful and Mrs. Henry Blosser consoled. The hostess served a two-course tea at 4:30 o'clock.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. James Gamble, E. High-st.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Conner left on Thursday for their home in Los Angeles, Cal. They were accompanied by Mrs. Conner's mother, Mrs. A. W. Green, N. Washington-st., who will make her home with them.

Mrs. Green has made her home here for 40 years and her many friends regret her departure for another city.

Complimenting a number of the officers of the Ohio Federation of Women's club who spent Wednesday night in Lima, enroute to the Federation conference at Bluffton, officers of the Lima federation and a group of local club women enjoyed dinner at the Hotel Argonne, Wednesday evening. Covers were laid for thirty.

Out-of-town women present were Mrs. C. O. Selover of Cleveland, Mrs. Allen Marshall of Piqua, Mrs. Albert Bishop of Cleveland, Mrs. Wilbur Miller of Akron, Mrs. Ida Stannard of Delaware, Mrs. James Fleming of Akron, Mrs. H. N. Halter and Mrs. Henry Zimmerman, both of Fremont.

Mrs. Fred Bradley, W. Spring-st., had as her guests Wednesday night Mrs. Miller who is state chairman of conservation, and Mrs. Bishop, who is the state citizenship chairman. On Thursday, Mrs. Bradley and her guests together with Mrs. Frank Boone, who is chairman of conservation of the northwest district, motored to Bluffton.

Mrs. C. S. Jones welcomed the members of the Pons club to her home on W. Wayne-st., for their final meeting Wednesday afternoon. At the conclusion of the bridge games, Mrs. P. A. Kershaw, Mrs. L. L. Ward and Mrs. F. H. Foust held high scores. A two course tea was served at five o'clock.

Mrs. Edward Maag will entertain the club in two weeks at her home on N. Collett-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kemmer entertained at their home, 222 N. Baxter-st., at an informal card party, Wednesday evening. A two-course luncheon was served at a late hour. Mrs. Kemmer's mother, Mrs. Minnie Zulliger, assisted during the evening.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Green, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Krone and son, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Creston and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Landfair and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hale and daughter, Laura Ruth and Mr. Fred Zulliger.

WOMAN IS SLAIN BY BURGLARS

Body of Aged Victim Found in Home at Elyria

ELYRIA — (Associated Press)—Mrs. Anna Hebebrand, 79, was slain by burglars in her home at Elyria last night. Body of the woman, an eccentric, said to be worth $50,000, was discovered early today with her head crushed in by a blow from an iron bar.

Police are searching for a suspect whom they believe murdered the woman to obtain money with which to buy liquor.

Death, police said, resulted from a fractured skull and there were marks on throat to indicate she had been choked.

Wrecked furniture in the living room where the body was found pointed to the fact the aged woman made a struggle for her life.

RECEIVE NO WORK ON CONTRACT

City Officials Not Appraised Defaulted Project

City Manager C. A. Bingham, noon Thursday, had not yet been formed the result of the Cleveland conference Wednesday between officials of the Fred R. Jones Co. and the Royal Indemnity Co. on question of who it is to complete intercepting and outfall sewer on which Jones defaulted two weeks ago.

Shortly after the noon hour city manager went home, convinced that he would get no word on question. He said the city can have no move until the 15th if he has expired from the time City Auditor Paul Landis served for notice on the bonding company complete the contract.

When D. B. Hamer, general of the Jones company notified city manager that the conference to be held he promised to notify it immediately of the decision reached. Failure to hear from Hamer during the forenoon Thursday led the city manager to believe, he said, that decision has been reached. He confident, however, the bonding company will see the job thru a not compel the city to do it or take the matter into court.

shops. They're starving, I hear, and Mr. Gilliam says it serves 'em right. By this time she had found the object of her search—a large, brilliant star-shaped ornament. "What's the matter with the Star of Bethlehem?" she inquired.

"Oh, the usual," said Dilly. "Who ever heard of the lights working on a Christmas tree?"

"But this must work," Mrs. Gilliam declared firmly. "Mrs. Tice had it made to order—of Parisian diamonds. It cost $300."

"All right, it's better than nothing," said Dilly, taking it from her mother and clambering up the shaky ladder.

"Well, I'm half dead and there can't be any more presents," droned Mrs. Thornbury, reaching for her wrap. "I'd give my left hand for a cigarette."

"Not here!" exclaimed Mrs. Gilliam a bit shocked.

"Why not? We've had almost everything else."

"Mother's so mild-Victorian," whined Dilly. "And ministers are finding they've got to do something to make church-going attractive. What do we get out of it now? I've heard of preachers who go in for dances and movies and they draw crowds, too. Who wouldn't go to church to get a squirt at Douggy Farbanks?"

She clambered down the ladder, having hung the star at the top of the tree. Light from an opening door drew attention to a small, bent, mouse-like man, a grayed creature who bowed his way apologetically, his arms filled with bundles.

"Good Lord!" expostulated Mrs. Gilliam. "More presents?"

"Mrs. Tice brought them," he explained. "She and Mr. Jerry Goodkind. They're coming right in."

"Oh, Mr. Barnaby," said Dilly. "Our star won't light. Will you see if you can fix it?"

"One moment—" The sexton was hurrying back to the door, free of his arm-load. The Gilliams could wait. Mrs. Tice was much wealthier. With a servile bow Mr. Barnaby opened the door.

CHAPTER II

Mrs. J. Orson Tice

Mrs. J. Orson Tice swept into the leaden shadows of the darkening church in much the same manner that she had just entered middle age—refusing to close the door behind her.

"Hello, everybody," she said in airy greeting, which "everybody" returned. "Who are those people on the church steps? A lot of dirty foreigners blocking the sidewalk."

"It's the grating Mrs. Tice," explained the chronically apologetic Mr. Barnaby. "The furnace room's underneath and they're trying to keep warm."

"Well, let 'em try somewhere else," said Mrs. Tice, brushing herself in unpleasant recollection. "I don't mean to be unkind, you know, but there must be missions or something."

Proper observance having been paid to Mrs. Tice, Mrs. Thornbury turned to the man who had entered leisurely in her wake. Jerry Goodkind, faded indolent on a shiny, yellow walking stick. It was a favorite pose, restful and at the same time about dad's sickness I was able to tell him.

Because I have been lying so much to Jack, Little Marquise, I have felt that I could hardly allow him to kiss me any more than was absolutely necessary to keep him from suspecting anything. Jack has been very hurt at this. Of course he has concluded that it was his fault and he goes about with such a hurt look on his face. Truly, he is a great big boy. I have as much care with him as I have with little Jack. I wonder if that is always a part of a wife's job.

I don't know how he got along without me before we were married. He has been very silent and moody lately, but today for the first time he seemed to be more like himself. He came to me quite humbly before he left for the office this morning.

"Leslie dear, I don't really understand why you love me at all except it is because I need your love so much. You are the sweetest, dearest little woman in all the world and I am going to show you that I appreciate it."

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN
And so do the children

Some Families Are Never Ill

FORTUNATE are the children whose parents fully realize the seriousness of constipation. Hospital records prove that 75 per cent of all disease originates in bowel obstruction, or constipation. Young children cry because of it; school children are hampered in their studies; grown people are made 25 per cent less efficient; elderly people's blood pressure increases 28 per cent. Realizing this Mrs. Carrie Moss of 1714 Church st., Lynchburg Va., Mr. Louis C. Grah of 1569 Winton ave., Lakewood, Ohio, and innumerable others, give a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at the first sign of constipation, and have no sickness among their children.

Largest Selling Laxative

Every up-to-date family medicine chest should contain a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and palatable aromatic, a prescription written 30 years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who practiced medicine 17 years. You can buy a bottle in any store where medicines are sold, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. We guarantee that if you will give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to a child or for a few nights to an adult it will relieve any case of constipation no matter how chronic, or your money will be refunded.

10 Million Bottles a Year

Use it once and you will never again take coal-tar drugs in candy form, calomel or salts. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a vegetable laxative free from opiates and narcotics. It can be safely given to infants, yet it effectively moves the bowels of adults. It acts gently; does not cramp or gripe. Keep it in the house and use it for any indication of bowel obstruction such as constipation, biliousness, torpid liver, dyspepsia, pimples and like skin eruptions. Give it early and it will break up a fever or a cold overnight. A spoonful proves it.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

All druggists in this county are authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that it is a full bottle of ALLENRHU, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, that will stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished even in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Allenrhhu relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of ALLENRHU, who for many years suffered the tortments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless ALLENRHU decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance.—Adv.

When you invest money it's just as though you lived in the olden days and owned a slave and hired him out to work for somebody else who paid you for the work your slave did. Only your money is a better worker than any slave possibly could be because money doesn't grow old, or get sick or die and it never needs to sleep, or be fed or clothed or anything of that sort.

The Ohio Power Company pays money every 3 months to thousands of its customers and other local people—money earned for them by their savings which they have INVESTED in the company's Cumulative Preferred Stock. This money which the Company pays out every three months is called "dividends" and at the present price of the stock the dividends amount to over 6 1/2% a year.

How about investing some of your money? Why not let your savings earn more money for you? If you invested in only ten shares of this stock you'd be entitled to receive a dividend of $15.00 every three months from The Ohio Power Company.

If you did have a slave you'd make sure when he was working for someone else that he'd be well cared for—that he'd be SAFE, which is one of the best things about our stock. IT'S SAFE! NEVER forget that!

In Lima Theatres Today

(BY GERTRUDE GILLMAN)

Nora Pleases at Faurot

(BY CAME)

I speak well for Lima for an amusement point of view when the fact is taken into consideration that both Sousa's band concert and Nora Hayes at the Faurot, turned many people away from both performances. It shows conclusively that when something good is offered to the amusement seekers of Lima, their appetite is always on the hungry side.

Days came here as part of her transcontinental tour; Hayes has the same reputation here as she has in Frisco or New York or New Orleans, and she detracted nothing from her high standing among prominent women of the stage, in her slender bit she offered in an

Vaudeville at Faurot

Vaudeville will be resumed at the Faurot for the remainder of the week and including Sunday. In the selection of these acts, the idea is to select such acts as will please all minds and tastes of that class of theatregoers who favor vaudeville. The bill is replete with a bit of about the entire gamut of variety. There are "Three Odd Chaps" in a song and dance act; Brown and Elaine, in a skit called "The Fatal Wedding." The plot deals with a boob back driver who tries to substitute himself for the groom, and thereby lies the fun and plot.

No vaudeville bill is quite complete without a Dance Fantasia, this

Effective Combination Adopted in "The White Rose"

In naming his newest photoplay, production "The White Rose" appearing at the Sigma, D. W. Griffith has happily combined a symbol of love and the character of his heroine in the play. An orphan girl, portrayed by Mae Marsh, picks a white rose and presents it to a youth of high station at their first meeting. The lover carries it thru all his wanderings as a sustaining hope. The girl, after numerous vicissitudes, and amid the disdain and ridicule of her acquaintances, emerges from her woes the same innocent child she had been at first meeting her lover.

Ivor Novello, a young English actor, portrays the role of the lover. This marks his first motion picture work in America and he has been

Change of Program Today at Orpheum

A COMPLETE change of musical comedy program for the last half of this week occurred at the New Orpheum theatre at the matinee Thursday, when Elmer Coudy and the Marcus Show of 1923 presented for the first time in Lima the musical extravaganza, "Oh, Mary." It is a musical comedy with a real plot, costumed and decked in scenic investment on a scale of gorgeous proportions. Every bit of wardrobe, stage setting, electrical effect, story and musical score is entirely new. Friday afternoon, two persons

SERIOUS BLADDER TROUBLE. "Could not stand nor sit and was forced to cry out from intense pain," writes Henry Williams, Tarkio, Montana. "The doctors said I had inflammation of the bladder and an operation was necessary. Tried Foley Kidney Pills and improved at once. Tell all my friends about Foley Kidney Pills as it will save many from suffering and perhaps, as in my case, a dangerous operation." Bladder and kidney trouble demand prompt treatment. Lorain Speech Gets New Name For Jim Morton

J. E. Morton, managing secretary of the Board of Commerce has had another title stuck on to him. He spoke before the businessmen of Lorain recently and was hailed in the Lorain papers as "the Billy Sunday of better business."

What Compound

Interest will do. On April 18, 1900, Miss _____ of North McDonell street, opened a savings account and deposited small amounts until she had accumulated $50.00. One day she lost her pass-book and later on married and moved to another city and we lost all trace of her whereabouts. Some 3 months ago we accidentally secured her address and were informed she would visit Lima in September. A few days ago she called at the office and was much surprised to learn that her original $50, which she had given up as lost, had grown in the meantime by compound interest, in the tidy sum of $102.25, or nearly FOUR TIMES the amount she had saved.

This illustration should teach everyone to save while young and able.

No. 5 of a Series Experience Is Best Teacher

That street railways are important factors in cities the size of Lima and larger is not only proven but greatly emphasized by the experience of the people in Saginaw, Michigan.

For two years the city of Saginaw was without street railway service—cars were sent to the barns and jitneys took their places and later proved to be utterly inadequate. The people then demanded that the street cars be returned.

The inevitable solution of the much perplexing problem was a reversal of the policy of oppressive hostility, largely inspired by certain interests against the street railway, and voters of Saginaw have, by a three-fourths majority, decided that they prefer street cars after all.

The public interest is the criterion, and the public interest can not be served, in the long run, by breaking down the companies to which a right of way has been given for public use.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have

Have you ever stopped to think why it is that so many are extensively advertised once drop out of sight forgotten? The reason is simple. The manufacturer of the medicine did not fulfill the promise. This is particularly true of a medicine that promises to cure an endless chain system. It is recommended by the need of it.

A prominent druggist for example Dr. Kilmer's Root, a preparation for many years and never recommend, for in it shows excellent results. my customers testify. According to sworn and verified testimony who have used the preparation of Dr. Kilmer's is due to the fact, so claim, that it fulfills a wish in overcoming kidney troubles and neutralizes which causes rheumatism.
